

PurGo software system

Designed to manage all waste collection and management processes from end-to-end, the PurGo software system improves our customer service.

- It provides Bristol Waste Company and, importantly, our customers with access to real-time data across all operations.
- This industry-leading software was developed to automate back-office functions and deliver efficiencies for our customers.
- This system automatically produces duty-of-care returns and annual submissions.
- Reports can be customised to support your needs, whether you have one or multiple sites.

How it works

- The system allows the Bristol Waste team to upload all information about jobs whether they are in the office or working remotely, and our drivers use specially-designed tablets.

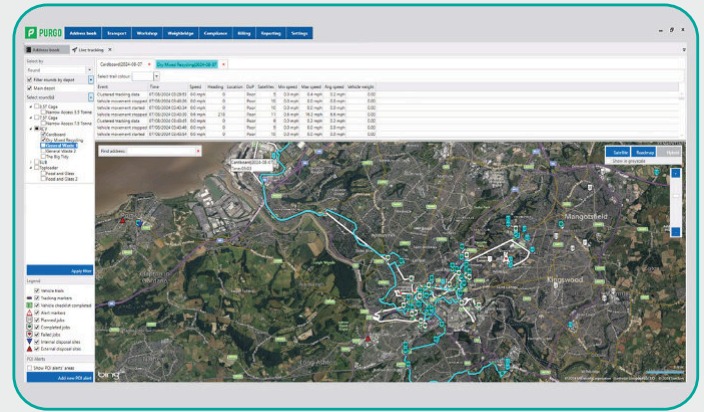

- Customers can receive automatic job confirmations and waste transfer notes via email or text, with access to in-depth reporting information. This ranges from the name of the driver and details of the vehicle to the time they arrived on site, when they left, and the completed task.

PurGo software system

- PurGo enables customers to easily pull together data for their own reporting.
- Other key features of the PurGo software include a route planner, which means our drivers use the most efficient journeys, reducing our costs and impact on the environment including carbon reduction.

Reducing costs and heightening efficiency

- This system upgrade enables Bristol Waste to streamline operations, and optimise efficiency savings, resulting in a more sustainable service for both us and our clients.
- Employing innovative technology means we can meet our own sustainability objectives, those of our customers, and that of Bristol and beyond.
